DETAILED ACTION

1. Decision by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences on May 30, 2003 and Applicant's Amendment on August 30, 2004 have been reviewed. Claims 5 and 6, the Specification and Drawings have been amended in response to Examiner's Office Action have been reviewed.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Upon the reconsideration of the decision by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences on May 30, 2003, Applicant's amendments filed on August 30, 2004, and the extensive searches of various databases (see the search notes), the Examiner respectfully submits that claims 5 and 6 are allowable over the prior art of record (see PTO-892 and PTO-1449).

Reason for Indicating Allowable Subject Matter

The present invention is directed to a method for operating a computer system to accurately perform date operations spanning centuries. The closest prior art, Adamchick US Patent No. 5,761,668, teaches converting computer databases and software to accommodate date the change of date from December 31, 1999 to January 1, 2000 and subsequent dates. However, the prior art of record fails to teach or suggest individually or in combination the recited limitation “adding said 7 integers of one of said plurality of date files to said 7 integers of another of said plurality of date files to generate a sum; and adding 635 to said sum when the last three integers of said sum is in excess of 365 to generate a new date file representative of a new calendar date” as set forth in the independent 5, and “subtracting said

7 integers of one of said plurality of date files from said 7 integers of another said plurality of date file to generate a difference; and subtracting 635 from said difference when the last three integers of said difference is in excess of 365 to generate a new date file representative of the number of years and days difference between the date files” as set forth in the independent 6. Therefore, all pending claims 5 and 6 are hereby allowed.
